“ I will remember the chats we had in the street as we collected the mail. Your shared memories will be with me forever. Robert had a positive attitude about everything. Even our last visit while in the hospital was with a smile. Mom and I pray for the family during these hard times.

“ For many years we had the pleasure of traveling with Robert . We had some great times, too numerous to entirely recount. Robert was always friendly to new acquaintances as well as old friends. He had a penchant for listening carefully and thoughtfully responding upon due consideration of what was being said. I shall fondly remember Robert not only for his New York saavy, but perhaps more for his depth of intellect and his resolute yet quiet strength. I shall also reflect affectionately over our philosophical musings, an occasional joke as he would savor an after dinner snifter of cognac. Farewell dear friend. Though your journey has taken you from our midst, before the sundown of our shared conciousness, we are soon to meet again in a better place. And when we do, I will raise a glass with you and toast to you that not only did you have a life well lived, but how the essential Robert Beetschen made the world a better place for his family and friends alike. Godspeed dear friend. Lynn and Robert (Bob)
